

WHAT IS A SEPAG?

(Special Education Parent Advisory Group)

SEPAGs are parent-driven groups that advise and collaborate with the school district to strengthen special education and related services.

Role in the District

SEPAGs recognize parents and caregivers as essential stakeholders in the special education system and to serve as a structured forum through which families inform and improve programs and policies affecting students through purposeful, strengths-based dialogue with the district.

Benefits for Families & Districts

- Addresses student needs and strengthens the quality of special education services.
- Improves school climate and minimizes stigma.
- Establishes ongoing two-way communication between families and district leadership.
- Expands parent knowledge of special education processes, rights, and resources.
- Improves parent confidence
- Fosters community, collaboration, and trust among families and schools.
- Facilitates resource sharing and mutual support among parents.
- Serves as a trusted, district-wide source of information and guidance for families.

All Voices are Welcome

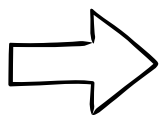

While SEPAGs focus on supporting students who receive special education services, meetings are open to all members of the school community, including:

- Parents and caregivers of students (those receiving services, or not)
- Educators and school staff
- Community partners and service providers
- Anyone interested in learning more and improving local special education services.

Focus on Systemic Change

SEPAGs are most effective when members focus on delivering systemic input and keep in mind that:

- SEPAGs are not support groups.
- SEPAGs are not for individual complaints.

Ready to get started? Contact your district's Director of Special Education for more information about joining your local SEPAG.

